

Line spacing in Beamer

Using the `setspace` package, locally different line spacing can be achieved.

For this, use the `setstretch` command to get, for example, double spacing. It's important that you end your paragraph with “\\”.

With the symbol `\line space` adjustment works fine for many values.

But without it, no matter the `setstretch` value, the paragraph has default spacing.